

Infinite Love Has No Off-Season

@corabellebj

Ernest Holmes reminds us:

“There is a Power in the Universe greater than you are, and you can use it.”

And,

“Life is a mirror and will reflect back to the thinker what he thinks into it.”

@corabellebj

When we limit our symbols of inclusivity to a season or a single month, we mirror back to our community that love and belonging have an expiration date. But the Spirit knows no such limitation for it is Infinite, eternal, and ever-present.

Holmes also teaches:

“We should live every day as though the Spirit were dwelling within us as an ever-present reality.”

@corabellebj

For many of us, being visible is not a seasonal choice but a constant spiritual act. Our authenticity is a living prayer; a daily embodiment of Truth, courage, and divine individuality. We do not get to take off our identity or hang it in a closet after June.

True inclusivity is not decoration. It is an unwavering commitment to seeing each soul as a unique, radiant expression of the Divine, every single day.

@corabellebj

Holmes writes:

“The awakening of the soul to a recognition of its unity with the Whole is the greatest discovery of life.”

As spiritual communities, we are called to awaken daily, to see beyond appearances, to celebrate the wholeness and holiness of every person.

@corabellebj

Inclusivity is Spirit in action.

It is a living testament that Love has no season, that Oneness has no pause, and that each individual is forever a perfect idea in the Mind of God.

@corabellebj